Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer moving image file explicitly shows sexual activity involving two woman and an animal. It presents sexual conduct with an animal as a desirable and legitimate form of sexual expression and encourages experimentation by breaking down the taboos that surround it. As such, it promotes and supports bestiality, which means that it falls under and meets the criteria of s3(2)(e) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993 and is deemed to be objectionable.

The classification of this publication interferes with the freedom of expression, but this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications falling under s3(2) are deemed to be objectionable. The classification is also a reasonable limitation on the freedom of expression that reflects the concern of "a free and democratic society" to limit the availability of publications that promote and support bestiality.
